INTRODUCTION TO THE NATIONAL JAPAN BOWL

The Japan Bowl® is a Japanese language quiz bowl competition created in 1992 by the Japan-America Society of Washington DC (JASWDC). In a series of three exciting rounds, the Japan Bowl invites students formally studying Japanese at their high school from all over the United States to Washington DC to put their knowledge of Japanese language, culture, history, and society to the test. It is recognized at the premiere language competition for students studying Japanese in high school.

Students represent their school as part of a 2-3 person team at one of three levels based on their level of study at their high school. Students participate in two preliminary rounds and one conversation round over two days, answering a variety of questions on Japanese language and culture topics provided in the National Japan Bowl Team Study Guide. In addition to the academic competition, students are given opportunities to participate in cultural demonstrations, engage with alumni through panels, learn about study opportunities at American and Japanese universities, and meet other students from across the country who share their passion for the Japanese language and culture.

The competition also serves as a networking opportunity for Japanese language teachers who are invited to sit in on competition rounds and participate in meet and greet and networking events with teachers and students from other schools.

Students are also invited to enjoy the Sakura Matsuri – Japanese Street Festival after the close of the competition. The National Japan Bowl and Sakura Matsuri are both official events of Washington DC's National Cherry Blossom Festival, which celebrates the gift of the flowering cherry blossom trees from Japan to the United States in 1912.

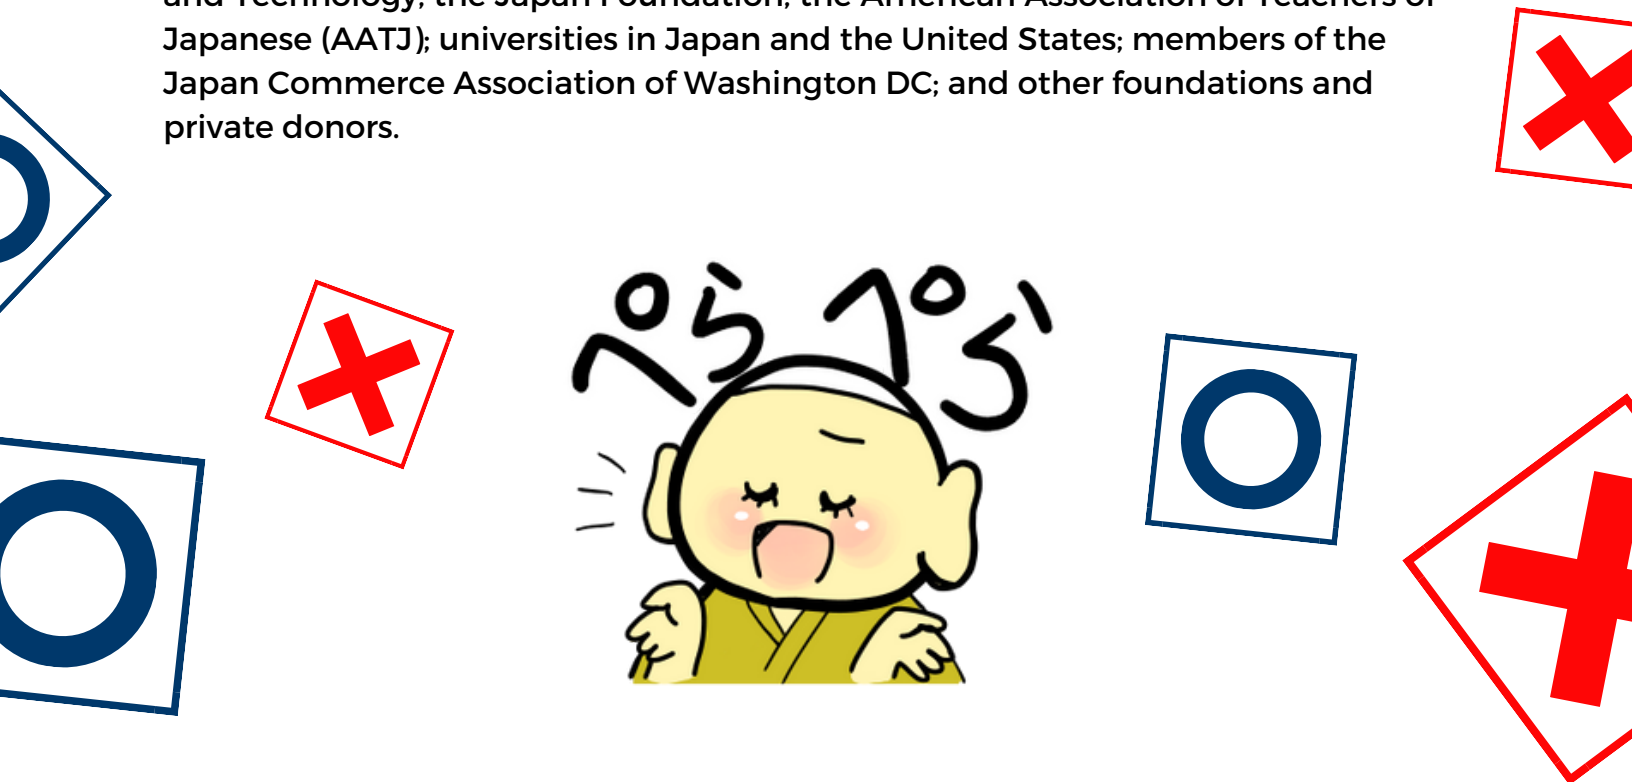

When the Japan Bowl was first conceived, studying Japanese at the high school level was rare, but today over 70,000 American high school students are learning Japanese. According to the Japan Foundation, most Japanese language learners in America today are in high school, not college.

From its inception, the Japan Bowl has focused on practical, real-world communications skills, and not textbook learning. It encourages students of Japanese to flex their practical communication skills and go "beyond the language" to learn more about the culture, society, and history of Japan, the country whose language they are studying.

The first Japan Bowl was held in 1993 at George Mason University as a local competition for high schools in the Washington DC area. As the competition grew, so too did its popularity and soon schools from all over the nation flocked to Washington to participate, earning it the name "National Japan Bowl."

Since 1995, JASWDC has worked with other organizations across America and around the world to establish regional branches of the competition in Michigan, California, Minnesota, Illinois, Wisconsin, and Oregon. Iteration of the competition have even been held globally in Poland, Mexico, Canada, and France. In 2017 the competition was adapted for 1st through 6th grade students as "Junior Japan Bowl" and in 2018 the first America Bowl was held in Japan.

Over the years, The National Japan Bowl has enjoyed support and guidance from the United States-Japan Foundation; the Embassy of Japan in Washington DC; the Japanese Ministry of Foreign Affairs; the Japanese Ministry of Education, Science and Technology; the Japan Foundation; the American Association of Teachers of Japanese (AATJ); universities in Japan and the United States; members of the Japan Commerce Association of Washington DC; and other foundations and private donors.

GOALS OF THE JAPAN BOWL

Whether it is the National Japan Bowl in Washington, or a Japan Bowl elsewhere in the United States or around the world, the goals of every Japan Bowl are the same:

- To encourage and incentivize students to study Japanese at the high school level and maintain that connection to Japan beyond their high school years.
- To provide students the opportunity to meet peers who share their passion for Japan's language and culture and engage with Japanese culture in ways they may not otherwise be able to.
- To bring together a variety of stakeholders from government and non-governmental organizations to non-profit organizations, academic institutions and any others who share an interest in promoting Japanese language education and supporting "the next generation" of leaders in the relationship with Japan

PARTICIPATING IN THE COMPETITION

The National Japan Bowl is open to full-time high school students who are currently enrolled in Levels II, III, and IV Japanese language classes at a high school in the United States, whether in regular or block schedule classes.

The national championship teams from Mexico and Canada may also join the National Japan Bowl, provided they meet the same eligibility criteria as US teams and students.

Forming Teams

Students may form teams in one of three levels. These levels are based on the course level, not the number of years that a student has studied Japanese in high school. Students may not participate at a level lower than the course level they take at the school. Students may also not participate in Japan Bowl at the same level more than once.

The three levels at the National Japan Bowl are:

- Level II Students enrolled in second year high school-level Japanese language study
- Level III Students enrolled in third year high school-level Japanese language study
- Level IV Students enrolled in fourth or fifth year high school-level Japanese language study or in AP Japanese

Schools may only send one team per level to compete at the National Japan Bowl. You can form a team however you like whether it's getting a group of your friends together or holding try-outs at your school. Regardless of how they are formed, the teams must be at least two students and no more than 3 students all studying Japanese at the same high school or through the same program.

The National Japan Bowl follows the Japanese proverb 三人寄れば文殊の知恵 which means “If there are three, they will have the wisdom of Monju.” We strongly encourage you to try to form a team of three because two heads are better than one, but three heads can be even wiser.

If Japanese is not offered at a student’s high school but a city or county school district offers Japanese classes for academic credit in which students from multiple schools enroll together, whether online or in person, the school district and teacher may form teams to compete in the National Japan Bowl. In such cases, JASWDC will ask for additional information about the program, and a final decision on eligibility will be made by the Japan Bowl Director and Chair of the Japan Bowl Committee.

Student Eligibility

In addition to team eligibility, each member of the team must meet certain requirements. The following rules about Japanese language education and experience govern the eligibility of each team member.

Students are NOT eligible to compete if:

- They are native speaker of Japanese or use Japanese at home to converse with family members
- They have studied Japanese language and culture in Japan for a cumulative of three months outside of their high school curriculum
- Have participated in homestay experience or have lived in Japan for over 3 months cumulatively

Eligibility can be determined on a case by case basis and any questions about eligibility should be directed to the Japan Bowl Team at japanbowl@jaswdc.org.

Chaperones

All competing schools must be accompanied by at least one adult chaperone who is at least 21 years of age or older. Even though chaperones do not have to be Japanese language teachers, we strongly encourage that at least one Japanese language teacher accompany the students to the competition. A school may bring a total of up to 3 chaperones.

Chaperones will be asked to present a valid government-issued photo ID such as a driver's license or passport and will be asked to sign the Chaperone Agreement in the presence of a JASWDC staff member. These chaperones must be present with their students at the Marriott Hotel and Conference Center for the entire duration of the National Japan Bowl.

Students who attend the competition without a chaperone present will not be allowed to participate in the competition.

Observing the Competition

The Championship Round of the Competition is open to the general public, but those who wish to observe the preliminary rounds of the competition must register and pay the associated fees. All observers are invited to participate in meals, fill out a sample version of the preliminary round answer sheet, and will receive a National Japan Bowl t-shirt.

STUDENT OBSERVERS

Any high school student is invited to join the competition as an official student observer whether or not they study Japanese formally or their school has sent an official team. They will also be invited to participate in cultural activities and workshops for students at the Japan Bowl. All Student Observers must sign and adhere to the National Japan Bowl Code of Conduct and abide by the dress code set forth for all students.

All student observers must be accompanied by a chaperone aged 21 or older. This chaperone may be a teacher attending from their school with competing teammates. Student Observers should also submit a Parent/Guardian Consent Form and Participant Agreement Form.

Student Observers who also wish to stay at the hotel through out the competition are welcome to share rooms with students from their own school or other schools to reduce the cost of rooms. Student Observers traveling with a competing school should consult with their teacher ahead of the competition.

ADULT OBSERVERS

Family members and friends are also invited to join students at the National Japan Bowl as observers. Any non-high school student over the age of 18 who wishes to participate in the National Japan Bowl as an adult observer must submit an observer registration form.

Provided space is available, adult observers are invited to stay in the Marriott Hotel and Conference Center and may do so by following the same procedure as schools to secure rooms directly through the hotel.

The Society cannot match adult observers with other adult observers or students to cut down on cost.

COMPETITION FORMAT AND RULES

Preliminary Rounds

Format

The National Japan Bowl begins with two Preliminary Rounds, each broken down into two parts.

All students from one level are seated in their teams in one large room with a projector. A Japanese and English proctor are seated at the front of the room to read questions. Each team is provided with pens, scratch paper, and the official Japan Bowl answer sheet which they use throughout the round to answer questions as they are read aloud by the proctors.

Questions will be read aloud only once, but the Japanese language portion of any listening comprehension question will be read twice. Each question is accompanied by a visual cue presented on a PowerPoint slide and students will be asked to write their answers on their answer sheet.

Students will have 30 seconds to answer each question before the proctor reads the next question and they may go back to answer any incomplete questions at any point during that part of the round BEFORE the proctor tells them to STOP. The proctor will call out a 10 second warning at the 10 second mark between questions to give students a sense of the amount of time they have.

Students will answer a total of 90 questions over both rounds (50 in Round 1 and 40 in Round 2). Each question is worth 2 points and must be answered based on the instruction given in the question. At the end of part 1 of either round, students will be asked to change tables to ensure that all teams have an equal chance to be close to the screen at the front.

Each round is followed by an Answer Review session where proctors review the answers to the questions once the round is completed.

All preliminary rounds are closed to the general public. Only participants who have pre-registered to attend the preliminary round as an observer will be admitted to observe a preliminary round.

General Rules for Competitors

Students and observers may not leave the room at any point during the round and must remain seated. Those who do leave the room will not be allowed to reenter.

Students are permitted to discuss the questions with their teammates during the round but should do so quietly as to not disrupt other teams or accidentally give away an answer.

The National Japan Bowl follows the SAT rules. All personal belongings must be kept on the floor and all watches, cellphones, and electronic devices must be turned off and stowed securely throughout the round, including the Answer Review.

Teachers and students are permitted to discuss the questions and their answers after a round is complete. However, under no circumstance should ANYONE – student or teacher – make any of the questions or answers known to the public via any electronic network. If a team violates this rule, their score may be invalidated and any awards or recognition given to that team must be forfeited.

Description of a Complete Answer and a Partial Credit Answer

Certain questions have only one accepted answer. A complete answer in this case will contain all necessary elements to adequately answer the question, including proper form (as determined by the answer icon) and labels.

To answer questions completely, students should aim to be as specific as possible. For example, if the correct answer is “black motorbike,” an answer of “bike” would not be acceptable.

Other questions, however, may offer partial credit. These questions may have specific requirements for partial credit. For example, if the answer to a question is “black motorbike,” students may receive partial credit for simply answering “motorbike.” However, students would not receive any credit for the answer “bike.” Despite the existence of partial credit, students are encouraged to be as specific as possible in their answers to have a higher chance of achieving full credit.

Conversational Round - Format and Rules

On Friday morning, National Japan Bowl judges will hold a Conversation Round with each team to judge the speaking ability and communication and presentation skills of each team member. Please refer to the study guide for each level’s content.

The Conversation Round is graduated. Level 2 teams will participated in an Interview Round while Level 3 and 4 teams will participate in one on one conversations with other students.

All conversation rounds are closed to teachers, chaperones, other students, and the general public. Observers MAY NOT attend the conversation round. Judges will not ask for any specific personal information from students and at no point should students share the name of their school with the judges.

Level 2 Interview Round

Each team will be assigned a 5-6 minutes timeslot to meet with two Japanese-speaking judges, one native Japanese and one American with native level fluency. The native speaker judge will direct a conversation with the team in Japanese. for a Japanese-language conversation. The Japanese judge will conduct the conversation.

Students will open with a short self-introduction and will be asked a series of questions based on their self-introduction or asking them to answer questions based on the directions provided in the National Japan Bowl Team Study Guide.

LV3 & LV4 Format

Level 3 and 4 Conversation Rounds will ask students to engage in conversation with other Japan Bowl students of the same level to test their ability to carry a conversation and be a responsive and enthusiastic conversation partner.

Students will be assigned a session time in advance and are expected to arrive to check in at least 5 minutes prior to their assigned conversation round time.

Each student will be paired with another student of the same level from a different team and given a 5 minute timeslot in advance of the competition. A Japanese judge, accompanied by a Conversation Round Assistant, will observe the conversation and score student performances. Students may be awarded prizes for exceptional performance.

Tips for holding an excellent conversation can be found in the 2023 Japan Bowl Team Study Guide.

National Championship Round

The scores from both preliminary rounds are combined to determine the top five teams at each level. The top three finalists are announced after judging is completed for Preliminary Round 2. The top three finalists are invited to compete on stage for the National Japan Bowl Championship Round.

If any of the qualifying teams are not present at the time of announcement, the next runner-up team will replace the missing team. Scores from the Preliminary Rounds will not be carried over to the Championship Round. Only scores counted during that round will count towards final placements.

Format

The National Japan Bowl Championship Round takes place on stage before a live audience. Unlike other rounds of the competition, this one is open to the public as well as all other competitors and observers.

First, students will deliver an introduction to the audience and judges in the form of a short “Team Shokai”. Then they will participate in three rounds: the Individual Round, Team Round, and Toss-Up Round. During these rounds students will be asked to answer questions in a few different ways, but questions will ONLY be read once.

Team Shokai

The Team Shokai is a team public speaking opportunity for a group of students to show off their speaking and writing skills. Prior to the competition, ALL Japan Bowl students must submit a Team Shokai. You never know what might happen at the National Japan Bowl so it is best to be prepared. Instructions for the Team Shokai will be released as shukudai ahead of the competition.

Each Japan Bowl team should prepare a quick introduction of their team where each member has a chance to speak for at least 30 seconds each. The topic for the Shokai may vary each year.

Individual Round – 6 total questions; 2 questions per team

Two students per team are chosen by random wheel spin to present a sentence using a particular phrase from the study guide out loud. Once given their phrase, they will have 30 seconds to formulate a sentence and answer the question. Their answer to the question will be judged by a special live "Marubatsu" judging panel of native Japanese speakers. If a majority of the judges raise a blue circle, the answer to the question is accepted. If the majority of the judges raise a red "X" the answer to the question is marked incorrect. Students MAY not confer with their teammates during this round.

Team Round – 8 total questions

All three teams will be read the question at the same time and asked to show their answers written on a white board. Answers are judged live by championship round judges. Students ARE allowed to confer with their teammates during this round. If an answer to a question is too difficult to read, the question may be marked as incorrect.

Toss-Up Round – 15 total questions

During the final round of the Championship Round, each student must use a handheld buzzer to buzz in before answering a question. Students may buzz in at any point during the question, but they ARE NOT allowed to confer with their teammates before answering. Incorrect, early buzz-in answers will be penalized. Only one student per team may answer a question for their team so if the answer is incorrect, another student from that team may NOT buzz in to answer again. If a student buzzes in before a question can be read completely, they must answer the question before it is read completely.

During this round, students may also encounter Bonus Questions. If a team gets a question correct, they may have the chance to answer an attached bonus question. Students ARE allowed to confer to answer the bonus question and will have 30 seconds to do so.

Championship Round Tie-breakers

Tie-breakers may only occur at the end of the Toss-Up Round. If a tie is declared, a series of three toss-up questions will be asked to the two teams between which the tie is held. Unlike regular and bonus Toss-Up Questions, there will be no powerpoint slides for the tie-breaker questions.

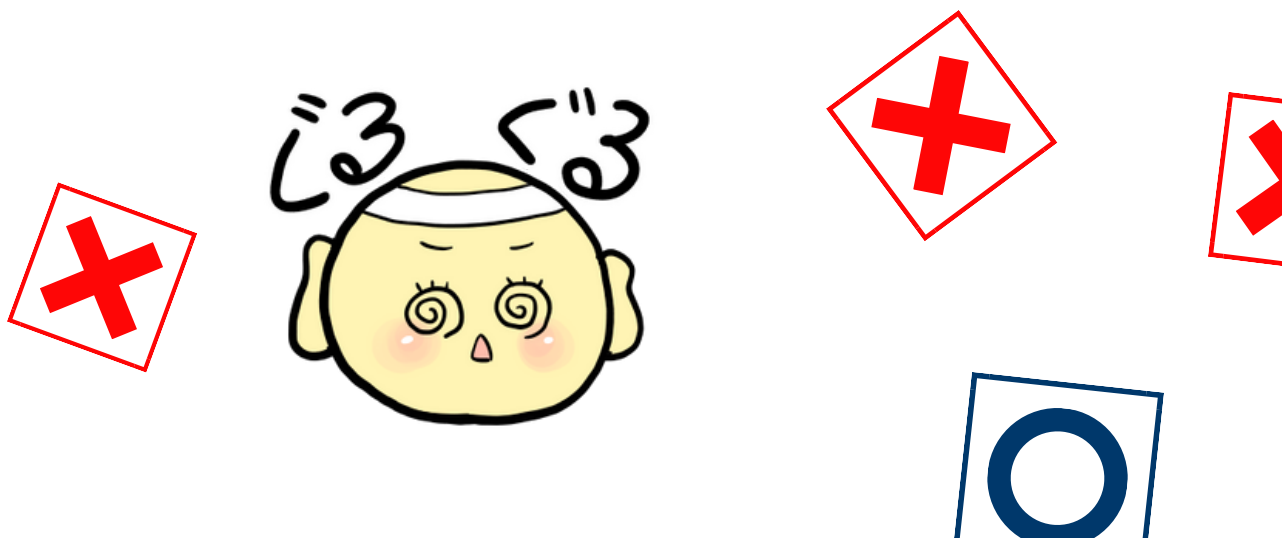

Grounds for Disqualification from the Competition

Following are the possible grounds for the disqualification of a student or team from the competition. JASWDC has the sole right to determine, in its own judgment, whether any action requires disqualification.

1. Challenging or showing lack of respect to National Japan Bowl officials, staff, or volunteers by a student, teacher, or chaperone
2. Inappropriate dress
3. Use of offensive language
4. Substantial violation of the rules of the Marriott Hotel & Conference Center or the University of Maryland
5. Misrepresentations and/or other irregularities on an application form which become apparent at the time of registration or during the competition.
6. Cheating or dishonesty
7. Violation of the National Japan Bowl rules about photographic equipment and electronic devices, including watches, that are capable of recording, photographing, or transmitting.
8. Making the questions or answers known to others via any kind of communications network, including email and social media.

Depending on the severity of the infringement, JASWDC also may prohibit the student(s) concerned, the entire team, and/or the school from participating in the National Japan Bowl at any Level in the following year. We therefore ask students, parents/guardians, and teachers to encourage appropriate behavior, in order to ensure that there are no misunderstandings.

APPENDIX

- Japan Bowl Code of Conduct
- Study Tips
- Sample Questions

National Japan Bowl Code of Conduct

To provide a safe, secure environment for all its guests, The Japan-America Society of Washington DC requires that all Japan Bowl participants adhere to the National Japan Bowl Code of Conduct.

Adult chaperones and group leaders are responsible for enforcing this Code. These rules are not subject to interpretation, and each group is expected to follow them without exception or risk dismissal from the National Japan Bowl Competition.

Dress Code

- All participants are expected to dress in Business Attire with formal, close-toed shoes for the first day of the competition and in their official National Japan Bowl t-shirt on the second day of the competition. Team members who are not dressed appropriately may be asked to leave the competition room.
- No jeans, shorts, T-shirts (except for the official 2022 National Japan Bowl T-shirt), tank tops, caps, hats or head coverings (except for religious wear), athletic attire or sneakers, leggings, miniskirts, bare midriffs, or flip-flops are permitted during the competition (preliminary, conversation, and championship rounds).

Japan Bowl Lanyards

- All Japan Bowl participants are expected to wear their official Japan Bowl lanyards throughout the competition and their time at the Marriott Hotel and Conference Center. Lanyards will be required to attend preliminary rounds, culture workshops, and other Japan Bowl networking events. Any participant without a lanyard may be denied entry to a round of the Japan Bowl competition.

Technology Use

- The use of any technology during competition rounds of the Japan Bowl competition is strictly prohibited. This includes but is not strictly limited to calculators, cell phones of any kind, laptops, electronic tablets, and watches of any kind.
- Students, chaperones, and observers are prohibited from photographing or otherwise documenting rounds of the competition, including the answer review. Any student that needs to use a laptop or other electronic device in order to compete must obtain written consent from the National Japan Bowl prior to the competition.

Cheating and Academic Dishonesty

- In order to ensure a fair competition environment, regardless of competition format (in-person or virtual), all Japan Bowl participants are prohibited from the use of any material that may give them an unfair advantage over any other participants during the competition. Students may not use textbooks, study guides, handwritten notes, online resources, cell phones, tablets, or smart watches during the preliminary, conversation or championship rounds. Students are of course encouraged to study outside of the competition rounds but sharing of answers with those outside of the competition or copying, screenshotting, photographing, or recording any parts of the preliminary rounds of the competition is strictly prohibited.

Curfew

- In order to maintain a safe environment for our participants, the National Japan Bowl enforces a curfew policy for those students staying overnight. Students may not use common areas between 11 pm and 6 am during the days of the competition. Teachers and chaperones are within their rights to impose earlier curfews for their students, but the National Japan Bowl will never enforce a curfew other than this competition-wide curfew.

Alcohol and Controlled Substances

- Possession or use of alcoholic beverages or controlled substances is strictly prohibited while participating in the competition. Students found in violation of this policy during the competition may be dismissed from the competition. In addition, public intoxication of minors is illegal in the State of Maryland and is punishable by law.

Assault, Harassment, and Discrimination

- Any participant found to have assaulted or harassed a competitor, chaperone, observer, member of JASWDC staff, conference center guest, or member of the Marriott staff will be dismissed from the competition. Misconduct of any kind will be reported in accordance with Maryland State Laws and University of Maryland policy.

Covid-19 Guidelines

- All participants in the National Japan Bowl competition must submit a valid immunization record for COVID-19 prior to their arrival at the competition. Immunization records must be submitted in English and show completed immunization with a CDC approved vaccine. For more information on the accepted vaccines visit the CDC website. This includes family and friends, observers, and teachers who wish to attend the competition. Those wishing to apply for an exemption from this policy must email the National Japan Bowl at japanbowl@jaswdc.org.
- All participants in the Japan Bowl competition will be expected to comply with Prince George's County and University of Maryland's official campus masking policies regardless of vaccination status. You can find the most up to date information about the University of Maryland's COVID-19 policy for Visitors and Affiliates here. All Japan Bowl participants should adhere to the University's current masking policy upon time of arrival at the competition and are responsible for checking this policy before arriving at the competition. Failure to adhere to health guidelines while at the competition may result in dismissal from the competition.

Study Tips

- Find a way to memorize that works for you. Yes, the language lists included in the study guide are intended for you to memorize. You should know how to use them in a sentence, but you should also be able to recall them as quickly as you can recall hiragana. The National Japan Bowl makes its very own Quizlet cards, but we recognize that Quizlet isn't the best tool for everyone. Whether it's writing the kotowaza over and over again by hand or using other apps like Anki, Mochi Cards, or Clozemaster, the way you memorize is up to you. Be patient with yourself and find a study method that works for you.
- Japan Bowl Questions are not just trivia questions. While Wikipedia deep-diving can be fun and a good way to start learning about topics in Japanese culture, make sure that you branch out and look for patterns in information. The questions vary in difficulty, but overall, the question writers try to ask questions about aspects of Japanese culture that will help broaden your understanding of Japanese language and culture.. When studying for the non-language section start very broad and work your way down to smaller details. Chances are if it appears several times, we're thinking about it too.
- Divide and Conquer. Remember, 三人寄れば文殊の知恵, but it doesn't really help if all of your wisdom is just about the same topic. Talk to your teammates and split up the topics – language and non-language – based on what you each are most interested in. That way, you have time to hone in on something you love.
- Share information with your kouhai and sempai! Though you aren't all competing at the same level, it's important that you all work together to conquer the Japan Bowl study guide.
- Don't dismiss a topic just because it isn't your favorite. The National Japan Bowl topics are designed to help you build a wealth of contextual knowledge about Japan. Plus, there is always a way to find something curious in subjects you don't think are that interesting. Don't believe me? Try Wikiracing from horror mangaka Junji Ito to the Toyota Prius. You might learn something new.

- Go beyond Wikipedia and NHK Easy! Wikipedia is a great place to start and it's great to keep up with Japanese current events, but remember that you can use the sources on a Wikipedia page to find out more about a subject AND you shouldn't be afraid of material in Japanese. Download a browser extension like Rikaikun or use Hiragana Megane to open up that Wikipedia page in Japanese. Read Japanese tweets, watch videos in Japanese, and try to find out what Japan says about its culture. You might learn something new! If you're looking for more Japanese language and culture learning resources, check out the National Japan Bowl Resources Page for student picks and staff favorite.
- Always be prepared. You never know what could happen at the National Japan Bowl. Even if you don't think your team will make it to the Championship Round, make sure to write a Team Shokai and submit it for the Championship Round. We love to see your entries and it can help you learn something new about yourself and your teammates.
- Last but not least, remember to have fun! The National Japan Bowl is a learning experience and part of that experience is learning where your passion for Japanese language can take you.. You might meet amazing new friends, find a new hobby you love, or just get some really really good music recommendations. Approach the Japan Bowl with an open mind and remember to take a break from studying to meet other students and attend a workshop or two.
